With Uplanders

CITRUS PACKING

It's orange picking season and one of my very enjoyable activities is going out among our 59 trees (it formerly was 60) and pick the biggest and the best for the use of our family and friends

Then we think of the hundreds and hundreds of local people who actually know nothing about the local citrus industry.

Of course, these local people see the trees and glance at the fruit, and observe the trucks loaded with filled packing boxes enroute to the packing houses; express criticism of the orchard heating activities—and buy oranges and lemons occasionally.

Citrus production is by far our biggest local industry—and every person interested in that production should be concerned about thoroughly "selling" local people on the activity. Not only would more local people have a thorough knowledge of the industry but they would also have something very valuable to report to their eastern relatives and friends.

"Is it possible for anyone to go into the packing houses and see how it is done?" an acquaintance asked us the other day. In his car were relatives from Georgia and he wanted them to see how oranges are packed. Within a few minutes he was in a packing house.

It so happens, those relatives are back in Georgia right now, highly enthused about the orange packing trip—and California oranges.

This experience could be duplicated hundreds of times.

Anytime leaders in the local citrus industry want to arrange a public "open house" or inspection of their packing activities, we will be very glad to open The News' columns in announcing the event.

SANTA FE CROSSING

In a long-range program, one of the finest improvements that could ever come to the Upland business district is the placing of a grade crossing over the Santa Fe to connect North and South Second avenue.

A. K. Johnson, district superintendent for the Santa Fe lines, is receptive to the idea in his first comment concerning the proposal.

"If it is needed and good for the community, we surely will consider it," Mr. Johnson said.

We are sure the Santa Fe is vitally interested in the community and its future and will look with favor on the project. The crossing would provide a more direct connection with the southern part of the community with the business district, the city hall and all public utilities.

THREE B & L.

Perhaps observers from the outside know more about Upland's future than do local people.

At least, there are many signs of increased demand for property in the Upland-Alta Loma-Cucamonga area as well as for commercial sites here. The fact that three organizations are seeking a building and loan franchise here is also indicative of the tremendous development ahead for this area.

One local group has made tentative arrangements to form a new building and loan association, if a state charter can be obtained. Two other building and loan firms are also after a charter here. Presumably, only one charter is available. So, it will be up to the state building and loan commissioner to decide.

ARROW HEIGHTS LEADERS

It is worthy of observation that Upland's "newcomers" are doing their bit in community leadership. It so happens the newly elected president of the Upland Elementary School Parent-Teacher association is Mrs. Rick E. Byrket, 628 Redding way. The retiring president is Mrs. Oren W. Volz, 615 Tulare way. They live in the Arrow Heights tract, Upland's first major subdivision.

John Wasson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wasson, 1052 East Eighth street, is home from San Antonio hospital after receiving medical care.

An Atwood Stays In Trasurer's Job

John B. (Jack) Atwood, center, Upland merchant, was sworn in Friday as city treasurer by Mrs. Hazel Cassell, city clerk, at the city hall. His mother, Mrs. Everett W. Henry, right, 2487 San Antonio crescent east, tendered her resignation to the city council Thursday night. She said that since her re-marriage and residence out of the city limits, she was not eligible according to election laws. The new city treasurer's father, the late Owen E. Atwood, was first elected to the office in 1918 and temporarily transferred these duties to his wife upon entering service. He served as treasurer, upon resuming civilian life, until his death in 1952.

Marvin Hoover Feted

Mrs. Byrket Is New Head Of Upland P-TA

Mrs. Rick E. Byrket was elected president of the Upland Elementary Parent-Teacher association for the coming year at the February meeting of the group Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Upland Elementary school. She will succeed Mrs. Oren W. Volz, who presided over the meeting.

The report of the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Paul Geren, was unanimously accepted. Those who will serve with Mrs. Byrket are Mrs. Wendell Harmon, vice-president; Mrs. Donald Bowers, secretary; Mrs. Fred Perry, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Davis, historian; Mrs. Donald Ricci, parliamentarian; and Mrs. James Fero, auditor.

Another special feature of the evening was the awarding of an honorary life membership to Marvin Hoover, with Miss Jessie Brown, principal of the Elementary school, making the presentations. Words of praise for Mr. Hoover were given by Harold W. Cook and Oliver Soderberg. Mr. Hoover began his work as custodian of the Elementary school in 1942, and continued there till last fall, when he went to the Baldy View school.

Past recipients of the honor were introduced, including Miss Jessie Brown, Miss Florence Tarleton, Mrs. Eugene L. Mueller, Miss Janet Johnson and Mrs. E. J Pollack, and each received a corsage.

Mrs. Albert B. Weisbrod, the only past president present, was introduced and presented with a corsage.

Another recognition of Founders Day was the birthday cake decorated by Mrs. William Jones. Donations amounting to $11.25 were received to go toward the fund for extension work in the P-T A.

Mrs. Al Kannas, gave the thought for the day. Attendance prizes were won by Miss Suzanne Hutchinson's room in the Elementary school, and Mrs. Soderberg's room at Baldy View school.

Two Dwelling Permits Issued During Week

Permits were issued for two new homes during the past week by the building department with total business for the week standing at $25,695, Richard Derby, chief building supervisor, announced.

New dwelling permits went to Arthur E. Wilson, 1578 N. Euclid Ave., for a house and garage to cost $14,000 and to Robert Young, 536 N. Eighth Ave., for a house and garage to cost $5,200.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stowell, 324 Greentree Rd., were issued a permit for a $5,500 addition to their present home.

Sale of the Cucamonga Drug store is announced today, the new owners being Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Vath. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nippel, who have had the store, one of the principal retail concerns in Cucamonga, for several years, plan to live in one of the beach cities.

The new owners formerly resided in Arcadia.

Little League Players Must Register For Summer Competition

With 86 boys registered for summer league baseball competition a warning was issued today by Ed Hansen, league secretary, that all boys must register whether or not they played ball last year.

Seventy boys have signed up at Rowe's Sports shop, 305 N. Second Ave., for little league berths, with five signed for the minor league, 10 for the pony league and one for the colt league.

The colt league is a new addition this year for boys of the 15-16-year-old bracket. The league is made up of two teams from Upland and two from Ontario. Play will be on a regulation diamond.

Trash Disposal Issue Unsettled After Meeting

A meeting of the City-County Relations committee, made up of mayors within the county and S. Wesley Break, chairman of the county board of supervisors, failed to develop a satisfactory co-operative county-city trash disposal problem for the West End during a meeting yesterday, Mayor E. Tweed Stone said.

People living in county area will be prohibited from using the Ontario city dump following a 30 day notification period, Harold

Three Building, Loan Charters Sought in Upland

Indicative of this being an area scheduled for rapid future development is the revelation today that at least three applications are on file for an Upland building and loan association charter.

First in the announcement of filing a charter was the proposed Foothill Building and Loan association, including local residents with Arthur E. Wilson, the leader.

Euclid Building and Loan association of Ontario has also filed an application with the state building and loan commissioner for permission to open a branch here.

Another building and loan group, well established in a southland city, has also filed for an Upland charter. It was reported unofficially that another "local group" of investors was preparing to file for a charter.

Hearings will be conducted by the state commission on each individual application and the first hearing may be held next month, according to Mr. Wilson.

H. I. Vollersen, an Upland resident and manager of the Euclid association, said he understood hearing on his charter would be held soon, perhaps in March.

Inspection Of School Sites Scheduled Today

The five proposed sites for a new school in the west end of the Cucamonga school district were scheduled for inspection today by John Branigan, representing the state department of education—division of schoolhouse planning, Guy Daniels, of the county board of education and John H. Paterson, chairman of the county planning commission.

Included in the five sites are: Five acres owned by Mrs. Neal Van Dorrin at the southwest corner of Arrow highway and Baker Ave.; H. E. Willome's 10 acres at the northwest corner of Baker Ave. and Ninth St.; Mrs. Una R. Winter's nine acres west of the Willome grove; Edward S. Peterson's 14½ acres at the southwest corner of Ninth St. and Baker Ave. and Richard Nelson's 15-acres west of the Peterson grove.

Prices quoted ranged from $2,000 to $2,250 an acre.

Escrow proceedings have been started on a five-acre tract east of the 10-acre site recently purchased for a new school south of Arrow highway on the east side of Archibald Ave., George Partridge, school board president, announced.

A study of new school building plans has been planned for next week, Mr. Partridge said.

Senator George W. Malone, R-Nevada, will deliver an address at the Ontario American Legion Hall, at 310 West Emporia, at 8 p.m., according to Tom Wallace, President of the Chaffey district Young Republicans. Wallace stressed "that it is an admission free public meeting and everyone is welcome".

Parking Lot Plan

Appraisal Cost Figure Sought By City Manager

The firm of Evans & Batzle, San Bernardino, has been requested to furnish an estimate on the cost of appraising property and buildings at four locations on First and Third Aves. proposed as parking lots by proponents of a parking assessment district, City Manager R. G. Manley, said today.

The city council recently approved hiring professional appraisers to set the exact figure the parking assessment district would represent in cash outlay. Previously estimated by proponents after an appraisal was $180,000 for acquiring property and preparing the lots for use.

"This figure will not vary much from an appraisal today although our figures were arrived at late in 1953," Paul Hottel, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday.

The council authorized an appraisal after Mr. Hottel presented added names of property owners to a petition in favor of the parking assessment district. "Names on the petitions now represent owners of 55.4 per cent of the property in the proposed district," he told councilmen.

APPEAL FOR CHANGE

An appeal by Ernest Mehl, former city clerk and chief of police, for a change in the assessment district boundaries to exclude property owned by a S. Second Ave. group opposing the district, was well received by the city council.

"We are anxious that this matter be worked out to everybody's satisfaction and we are going to try and move in this direction," Mayor E. Tweed Stone said.

"The formation of this district is causing a division among Upland business people and harsh feelings are growing out of the proposal. It would be better for all concerned that the southerly boundary be changed to 100 feet south of Ninth St, to exclude property owners who do not feel they will benefit by the district," Mr. Mehl pointed out.

Proponents of the district pointed out that no concrete proposal has been presented along the lines of Mr. Mehl's suggestion.

"We will be more than glad to discuss any proposal that might be offered but until one is offered there is nothing to discuss," Mr. Hottel saaid.

ANALYSIS MADE

The added names to petitions came after an analysis of original petitions filed asking formation of the district. City Attorney Henry Busch found names on the petitions also appearing on a petition filed by opponents to the district.

In his report after the analysis, Mr. Busch said: "In all but one case, persons who signed the opposing petition apparently changed their minds and now favor the proposal."

Mr. Hottel pointed out that a group of property owners, who signed neither petition, have indicated they will not appear in protest to forming the district when hearings are called.

Miss Valle Is Queen

Gloria Jean Valle is Upland's Orange show queen.

She was elected as this city's representative last night in the contest conducted by the Ontario-Upland Junior chamber of commerce in the Chaffey auditorium. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Valle, 267 S. Second Ave. She is a freshman at Chaffey college. She will compete with queens from other cities for the honor of being National Orange show queen.

Alta Loma queen is Janet Laura Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Allen, 9441 Lomita Dr., and Cucamonga queen is Rosemary Brancacio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brancacio, 8204 Archibald Ave. She was queen of the 1954 Cucamonga grape festival.

Harry V. Cavers Resigns Post As Ag Inspector

Harry V. Cavers, 321 Calle Casino, resigned as Upland district county agricultural inspector early this week after 18½ years with the department, mostly spent in Upland.

He asked that the resignation become effective March 1 and gave the extended ill health of his wife as his reason for retiring.

"She has been in ill health for two years and we feel that I could better devote my time to her upon retirement than to hire someone to be with her," Mr. Cavers said.

A native of Michigan, Mr. Cavers came to California in 1906 and to Upland in 1908. He was assigned to the Upland district within a year after becoming connected with the county agriculture department.

This district comprises an area from the foothills south to the Santa Fe tracks and from Baker to Mountain Aves.

Harry V. Cavers

Walter S. Alf, 607 Olive St., who has been in charge of a combined Upland-Ontario district under Mr. Cavers, out of the Upland office, has been named to succeed the retiring inspector.

A temporary appointment will be made to give Mr. Alf assistance until a permanent assignment is announced through the county civil service system.

Questions To Be Answered On Cucamonga Water Plan

Kelber Suit Against City Given Setback

A demurrer contending that petitions in a damage suit against the city of Upland to recover $2,340 paid into the storm drain and park and school site funds "do not state facts sufficiently to constitute a cause for action," was sustained Friday by Superior Court Judge Archie Mitchell when the demurrer was argued in court.

Seeking to recover payments on subdivisions are B. F. Hungerford, Upland realtor, and Mike Kelber, Ontario developer.

Mr. Hungerford is asking for a return of $900 paid on 30 lots south of 15th St. on the west side of Euclid Ave. and Mr. Kelber is asking for $1,140 in payments on 48 lots between 13th and 14th Sts. on the east side of Euclid Ave.

The suit was filed by Kelber & Kelber, Ontario attorneys.

City Attorney Henry Busch filed the demurrer setting out that the petitions for suit did not state what law had been violated or what land was involved in the suit.

Funds Set Out

The park and school site fund is levied at the rate of $30 per lot and the storm drain fund on an acreage basis. The storm drain fund was an outgrowth of added flood danger presented by clearing of land and developing with surfaces that caused a run-off. The added run-off from roofs, streets and driveways required added storm drain facilities. The city council agreed the added facilities should be provided by those causing the need.

Kelber & Kelber set out that both funds were unconstitutional and collection was made under "duress."

Mr. Busen contended that the exact law or laws violated must be cited and the property properly designated by legal description.

"When we get this pinned down we will be ready to continue with the suit," he said.

Judge Mitchell allowed 20 days for Kelber & Kelber to file an ammended petition.

That the suit was causing statewide interest was evidenced by a letter to the city attorney from Lewis Keller, associate counsel for the League of California cities.

Mr. Keller wrote: "This case appears to raise some very important issues of statewide importance to cities, as well as issues which will quite possibly be the subject of legislative controversy during the present session."

Chamber Endorses Railroad Crossing At Second Avenue

The board of directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce, in a meeting Tuesday night, went on record as favoring any action possible to further the opening of Second Ave. at the Santa Fe tracks, Lillian Hilde, executive secretary, said today.

Although not officially named a committeeman, W. R. Crampton will make a study of possibilities of construction of a railroad crossing at this point and will furnish data for a committee to present to the city council and the railroad company.

Paul Trammell, 672 Redding way, is home from San Antonio hospital after medical care.

Public Meeting To Be Held On March 1 Vote

Questions concerning the proposed Cucamonga Water district will be answered at a public meeting in the Cucamonga school, Archibald avenue, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. This is the first of two public meetings to be held, the second being in the Alta Loma school Feb. 17.

All property owners and persons within the district are urged to attend and become acquainted with reasons for forming the area. An election March 1 will determine if the district is to be formed and if steps will be taken to actually obtain the use of Colorado river water.

If formed, the five persons receiving the highest vote for directors will be elected to administer the district. Eight persons are candidates for directors. The eight are J. F. Grass, Jr., Harold B. Blatz, John S. Ingalls, Galer Royer, Robert Nesbit, F. Clinton Haskell, Harry H. Hargraves and Nellie Elliott.

If formation of the district is approved, the directors will begin plans to eventually develop a distribution system. An engineer would be employed to develop "long range" plans for taking the water to every parcel of land within the district. All of the area in western part of the county is a member of the Metropolitan Water district but the proposed Cucamonga district would result in placing of distribution lines.

"There is very little question but what the annual demand for water in our area is greater than the annual supply," Mr. Grass said. He is president of the Cucamonga Basin Protective association. "This has been the case for many years. The lack of normal rainfall for the past seven years, the growing needs in the area and the increasing population tend to upset this balance to an even greater extent than has been the case in the past."

Mr. Grass is urging strong support of formation of the district to bring into the area additional water supply.

Sale Of 25,000 Boxes Of Cookies Girl Scout Aim

Sale of 25,000 boxes of cookies—That is the aim of the Chaffey Community Girl Scout organization during the annual cookie sale drive beginning Feb. 18.

"Purpose of the cookie sale is to raise money for the summer camping program," Miss Isabeli McCullough, Girl Scout director, emphasized today. Price of a box of cookies will be 50 cents and the Girl Scouts will cover the entire Chaffey district in seeking to achieve their goal.

For years, the Scout cookie sales have been popular with local residents and it is anticipated this year's campaign will be more successful than ever due to the wide interest in the girls' program.

"With the money obtained in the cookie sale, the Girl Scout council subsidizes the expenses of every girl attending a day camp or Camp Conifer," Miss McCullough explained. "This makes camping available for every family. Cookie sales money also allows for new construction and repair within the camp."

From each box sold, each individual troop retains two cents.

Amos R. Colborn Is Critically Ill

Amos R. Colborn, long-time Uplander, is today critically ill in the San Antonio Community hospital.

In ill health for several years, Mr. Colborn is suffering with heart disease and is under the care of specialists. Visitors are not permitted and much concern is being shown over his condition. He was in the east for a thorough medical examination and treatment last year and his condition had been greatly improved. He suffered heart attacks early this week, however.

Court of Honor Set For March in Upland

Santa Fe Willing To Consider

Crossing Studied At Second

"If there appears to be a real civic need for a crossing over the Santa Fe at Second avenue, we surely will consider our part in such a project," A. K. Johnson, district superintendent of the Santa Fe railway lines, told The Upland News yesterday.

He said he or his representatives would come to Upland soon and personally inspect the situation and discuss the problem with interested people.

In general, however, the railway dislikes having any more crossings, Mr. Johnson said and added: "Every new crossing simply means the possibility of more accidents."

The official emphasized, however, that if the crossing is really needed his company would give the matter every possible consideration. Mr. Johnson is in the San Bernardino office and the chief executive in this area.

From time to time for many years, a movement has been tried to get North and South Second avenue connected by the placing of a surface crossing over the Santa Fe lines.

With the increased growth of the area, especially the southern section and with the state highway commission planning a new exit off of the freeway leading directly into South Second avenue, a new effort is being proposed for bringing about the long-sought connection over the rail line.

Mr. Johnson's attitude was receptive and he indicated an early meeting here with interested persons.

It is recognized that if the Santa Fe officials are receptive to such a plan, a big boost will be given the long-anticipated improvement. The Public Utilities commission has final authority in granting permission for an additional crossing.

Council Voices Criticism Of Euclid Paving

L. R. McNeely, representing the state highway department, learned that the city council considered the recent surfacing of Euclid Ave. highly unsatisfactory in many respects.

Mr. McNeely appeared before the council in answer to a letter of complaint to the highway department from the council.

The ridges along the avenue are there to stay although they will be rolled down where they are no higher than one-half inch, Mr. McNeely told councilmen.

"This is to keep traffic in the two lanes so people parking and leaving parked cars will not be endangered," he said.

"But Euclid Ave. was never meant to be a two-lane highway," Councilman Robert Thrall interposed.

"Two driving lanes, twelve feet wide each, are authorized by the state regardless of the roadway," Mr. MacNeely answered.

"Those ridges are dangerous and cause a car to dart when one wheel strikes," Councilman Don Carr pointed out.

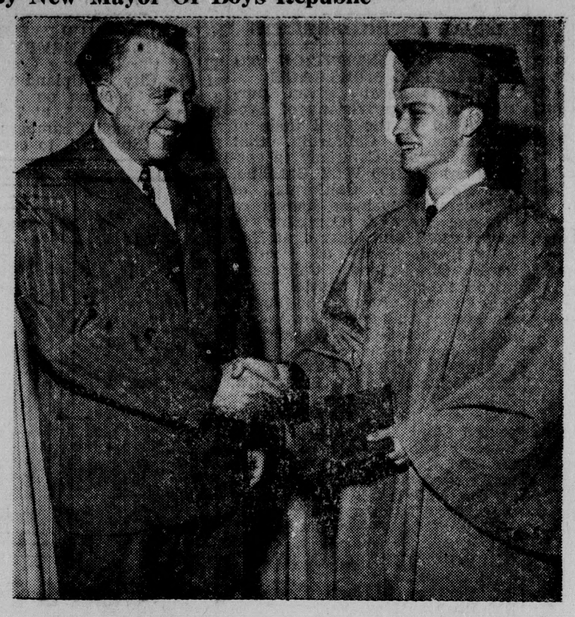
"Ridges are high in some places and will be graded down. The job isn't finished yet," Mr. McNeely said.

"In wet weather cars skid upon leaving the ridges to make a turn," Mayor E. Tweed Stone said.

"We are interested because we consider a dangerous condition exists and the City of Upland will be liable in case of accidents resulting from present surfacing," City Attorney Henry Busch siad.

The council agreed to take direct action with the state highway department in eliminating the hazardous condition.

Six-Bits Campaign Expense Listed By New Mayor Of Boys Republic



A former mayor of Boys Republic, 18-year-old Charles Lamoreaux, receives his high school diploma from Frank Graves, director of the unusual school near Chino, which offers an education and a fresh start in life to teen-age boys who need a second chance. Students at Boys Republic receive vocational training as well as regular high school academic courses.

A tiny town in Southern California has just elected a new mayor whose total campaign expenses amount to 75 cents!

"This was for white cardboard, so I could print some signs," explains the new mayor, 17-year-old Tommy Groves, who now directs the affairs of Boys Republic under supervision of school authorities.

This is the 240-acre "farm-school" near Chino—about 30 miles from Los Angeles—which offers an education and a fresh start in life to teen-age boys who need a second chance.

Mayor Groves, whose home is Hayward, received a big majority in the secret balloting. There was a 100 per cent turnout at the polls, with 130 boys casting ballots.

"Tommy is an outstanding student and athlete, and also a promising musician," declares Frank Graves, director of the school. The new mayor plays saxophone, and hopes to make a career of music.

Self-government is an important phase of the Boys Republic youth program, which has achieved a remarkable 95 per cent success record in rehabilitating its young citizens.

Elected judge of the Boys Republic court was William (Tiny) Rodriguez of El Monte. Robert Schwartz of San Francisco is the new district attorney, and city councilmen include: Joe Parker of Oakland, Gary Schrader of Torrance, Lennie Monti of Chandler, Ariz., Eugene Vidal of Los Angeles, and Louis Patrick of San Anselmo.

Del Quick, 10, Pomona, was top winner for the day when he won first in both the trophy dash and the main event. He came from behind to win the main event after being penalized as winner of the trophy race.

Patty Mulford, 8, Ontario was trophy girl and the awards were furnished by the Valley Industrial supply, Ontario.

Doris Henricks, 9, of Riverside won the consolation race and Gregory Dodge, 6, of Ontario, the semi-main event.

5 Injuries In Series Of Local Traffic Mishaps

A Claremont mother and her two small children were injured in one of three traffic mishaps in the last 48 hours resulting in injuries to five persons.

Mrs. John W. Small, 21, with daughter, April, 2, and son, David, 4, were given medical care at the Kaiser Fontana hospital Tuesday after a two-car crash on Arrow highway west of Mountain Ave.

The father and husband, John W. Small, 24, 226 Princeton Ave., Claremont, was driving westbound on Arrow highway when he crashed into a car operated by Mrs. Alice Engle, 65, 1412 W. Arrow highway.

She told police she backed from the driveway at her home when the car stalled. It was while trying to start the car that the collision occurred, she said.

Small's car lacked proper brakes and was in poor condition, police said.

LeRoy Jones, 10, of 352 Palm Ave., Ontario was said to be in fair condition today at San Antonio Community hospital where he was treated for injuries after being knocked down by a car Tuesday on Euclid Ave. at Eighth St.

The small boy darted across Euclid Ave. just ahead of one northbound auto and in front of another driven by Helen Cook Barrett.

She told police when the boy ran in front of her car he was so close that stopping the car in time to avert an accident was impossible. She gave her rate of speed as 25 m.p.h.

The injured boy was treated for a head concussion.

Sustaining minor injuries, but continuing to her home for medical care yesterday morning, was Mrs. Howard Clark, 1351, N. Euclid Ave., who was involved in a two car crash at the intersection of Euclid Ave. and 16th St.

She was northbound on Euclid Ave., when a westbound car driven by Peter Joe Brown, 26, 437 Orange St., San Bernardino, pulled into the intersection.

Mrs. Clark swerved to miss the Brown machine, careened off the side and into a telephone post. She sustained body abrasions and contusions.

Wider Archibald In Cucamonga Is Forecast

Eventual widening of Archibald avenue from the San Bernardino freeway to Foothill boulevard was forecast at M. A. Nicholas at the meeting of the Cucamonga District Safety council Tuesday night. Mr. Nicholas is San Bernardino county road commissioner.

As part of the long-range program in handling traffic using the Archibald entrance and exit to the freeway, this thoroughfare must be made wide enough to handle the traffic, Mr. Nicholas said. As funds are available and as the need develops, the widening will be realized, according to the official.

Oscar Ravn, long-time chairman of the council, presided.

Mr. Nicholas reported that tentative construction plans are being made for the construction of the proposed "diagonal" leading from Foothill boulevard east of Etiwanda on a northeasterly direction to Highland avenue. The proposed diagonal will actually start from Etiwanda avenue about opposite the Southern California Edison Co. substation, following the "wash" east of East avenue up to Highland. Actual construction of this route within two years was unofficially forecast.

Captain Frank Freeman of the California Highway patrol, who was present, was asked to make a study of accident records to determine if the lack of street lighting at Hellman and Carnelian avenues as they connect with Foothill was any factor in the cause of crashes.

Others in attendance besides the president, Captain Freeman and Mr. Nicholas, were Supervisor Dan D. Mikesell Herbert Hall, Judge William Hutton, Everett Learmont, W. C. Pearson, W. G. Pearson, Frances Wilson, Carl Masingale, Philip Johnston, Sebastian Masi and Carl Brancacio, Jr.

The Vogler family resides at 769 East Seventh street.

Committee To Act On Proposal By Developer

A meeting of the water and sewer committee of the city council has been tentatively set for Monday afternoon to make a study of a sewer line and water main proposal by M. Bertish, San Pedro developer, Councilman Joner Haldeman announced today.

Mr. Bertish has contracted to purchase a 178 acre tract from the San Antonio Water Co. lying north of Foothill Blvd. and west of Grove Ave. He proposed a subdivision development of 393 lots and 11 acres for commercial development.

The city council recently set March 3 as the date for a public hearing on two zone applications by Mr. Bertish. One called for a change to residential (R1-C) for the subdivision and the other for deepening the commercial zone by 360 feet along Foothill Blvd. The land is now zoned Special (Sp) and in flood control use.

The high cost of a sewer line and water main was brought to the attention of the council by Ellsworth J. Epperson, of National Engineering & Survey service, Los Angeles, acting for Mr. Bertish.

Mr. Epperson said cost of 7,500 feet of sewer line would be $23,000 and 5,600 feet of water main would run $22,800. This would be in addition to a $5,000 outlay for a storm drain channel necessary to protect the development.

These costs would make the subdivision prohibitive, according to Mr. Epperson.

He suggested the use of septic tanks as an alternative for the sewer line but the council had previously voted against any further installation of septic tanks in Upland.

The Los Angeles engineer also suggested installation of water main and sewer line under a contract that would permit recovery by Mr. Bertish on an acreage basis when new connections were made to the outfall sewer.

The committee will study the proposals and make a report to the engineering firm prior to next council meeting, Mr. Haldeman said.

We have found that it is much easier to make promises than to carry them out.

Upland Faced With Growing Trash Problem

Martin, Ontario city manager, announced.

The city council agreed recently the 18th St. and Campus Ave. dump should be closed to avert a fire hazard and arrangements should be made to channel all combustible material to the dump at 14th St. and Campus Ave.

Closing of the 18th St. and Campus Ave. dump is pending a meeting of the street committee with City Manager R. G. Manley which is scheduled for early next week.

Refuse To Sell

Refusal by the San Antonio Water Co. board of directors to sell or lease the present dump site at 14th St. and Campus Ave., for cut-and-fill disposal methods to do away with burning operations, brought discussion by the council concerning possible methods of bringing condemnation proceedings against the land.

Martin Nichols, county flood control supervisor, said yesterday the land was under a flood control easement and the court would have to decide whether the land was more important as a trash disposal grounds or for flood control uses.

"We are not occupying the land with any works in progrss at this time. But at any time we may find it necessary to start flood control works at this point," Mr. Nichols said.

"There is certainly a question of which use would take priority," Henry Busch, city attorney, said. "Flood control takes high priority in this area and there was considerable talk by the water company board about the dangers of pollution from use of the land as a disposal grounds," he said.

Smoke Reported

Mrs. Milton Fisher, 899 N. 11th Ave., repported to police at 5:07 a.m. Saturday, that smoke from the 14th St. and Campus Ave. dump had filled her house and the fumes and smoke were so bad the family could not sleep.

At 1:46 a.m. the same morning Sgt. John McCarthy had reported the dump had caught afire during the night and was blazing.

City Manager Manley said there was no reason for this fire because the burning operations were completed each day and the fire extinguished at night.

Trash burning at homes will not be stopped with the installation of a cut-and-fill disposal program, Mr. Manley pointed out. The smoke nuisance at the dumps will be averted by the plan but home burning will not be stopped so far as plans have been discussed to this time, he said.

Deadline Set For Boy of The Year Entries

All scoring sheets for boys entering Exchange club Boy of the Year competition must be in the hands of the club committee by Feb. 20, Harold Atchison, chairman, announced.

Scoring sheets will be checked at once and scholastic standings added by Thomas Piequet, Chaffey high school senior counselor, before a choice will be announced Mr. Atchison said.

To be eligible for competition a boy must be a senior in high school. Activities in music, speech, sports, school service, student body office holding, school club activities and scholarship will be taken into consideration in making selection.

The winner will compete with all other California Exchange club winners. The state winner will enjoy an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C. during the first week in May, 1955.

In the national capitol the youth will visit historical points of interest and also receive personal introductions to many of the country's leading office holders as well as visiting congress and seeing the national government in action.

The youth will be an honor guest at the Exchange club, Washington, D. C., and upon his return to California, in June will be a guest of the annual California State convention.

Sharps and Flats

By Chuck Barlow

For the edification of others who may have been harboring fallacious impressions as to the expanse of the City of Upland, the people of the Cucamonga community do not recognize any part of Upland as extending east of Grove Ave.

This fact was emphatically brought to the attention of this desk after a recent edition carried a headline referring to the area around Ninth St. and Baker Ave., as "East Upland".

The ink had hardly dried on this edition when George Partridge, president of the Cucamonga elementary district school board, stomped into the office with a copy of The Upland News clutched in his hand and his agitation showing.

He didn't bandy words.

"What in the world ever possessed yiu to put a headline like this in a story concerning Cucamonga?" He jabbed a long forefinger at the offending headline.

I maneuvered to the safety of my desk as he had caught me flatfooted in the middle of the office floor. "What difference does it make?" I parried. "That fringe area has annexation possibilities for Upland some day. It's closer to Upland than any other city and the people out there refer to their home as being in East Upland."

"That's anemic thinking," he argued. "We people in Cucamonga are planning for our own future and these plans include absolutely no schools for Upland. This school is to be supported by Cucamonga tax payers for Cucamonga children."

"But, George," I remonstrated. "we have to take common useage into consideration. Nothing derogatory was meant toward the people of Cucamong."

"That's not the point," he paced the floor. "Look at the position you put the Cucamonga school board in with that goofed-up headline. Cucamonga taxpayers will think the board has gone nuts. We are having a bad enough time getting some of the taxpayers to see the problem we're up against without having them think we are about to set up schools for Upland."

He was leaning over the desk clutching a badly mangled copy of The Upland News with both hands. I was pinned against the well wondering how fast I could get started toward the back door on that slick floor.

I remonstrated with a feeble hand. "That headline won't make any difference to the people of Cucamonga," I pointed out, "they know that area is called East Upland."

"Only by Uplanders," he roared. "In Cucamonga we call that the West End of the Cucamonga school district."

"Don't forget common useage takes precedence," I reminded.

"Common useage by whom?" he snapped back. "Common useage in Cucamonga says that's the west end. We don't care what common useage is in Upland."

"Don't forget," I countered, "there's a movement on by people living in Eureka Gardens to become annexed to Upland."

"Only two or three people," he retorted. "When residents in Eureka Gardens found out what they were going to be soaked to become a part of Upland they lost interest. Besides, you're evading the issue. We're not talking about annexation we are talking about this asinine headline."

"George," I said in a palsy tone of voice, "I'm really disturbed to see you in this state of mind. I suppose I should have put the word "of" between "East" and "Upland," but there wasn't room to squeeze it in using that kind of type."

"Use different type in the future and get it right," he glowered.

He swung on his heel and stalked out the door. I sighed in relief and slumped into the nearest chair.

Upland women, individually and in small groups, have served notice they are not right-of-way usurpers, as mentioned in Sharps and Flats recently. They point to those conceited male drivers as being the ones who think they own both sides of the street as well and the intersections.

Statistics mean little to determined women. Any male with just a little gray matter functioning will hunt cover when faced by determined women. This would appear to be a good item to be allowed a cooling off period.

One of these gals, with a little better sense of humor than most, dug up this little jingle. Of course it's about a man.

"Here lie the bones of Johnny Day,
Who died defending his right of way.
He was quite in the right, the code book said,
But the fact remains, poor John is dead."

Upland Seniors In Cast of 'Allegro'

Cast for Chaffey high school senior play, "Allegro", which will be given in the Gardiner W. Spring auditorium on Feb. 25 and 26 at 8:15 p.m., is already in rehearsal for this famous broadway play which deals with the growth of Joseph Taylor, Jr., to age 35. Looking affectionately at Taylor shortly after he was born, five Upland members of the cast include (left to right - standing) Janet Shaffer and Alan McNeil; (front row) Tom Baillie, Susan Ford, and Dick Salyer.

Grand Jury Service Outlined

Members of San Bernardino county grand juries have plenty of powers to investigate all phases of county, school and municipal governments but no authority in making changes unless there is basis for criminal complaints, Upland Lions club members were told Thursday. The speaker was Lowell E. Lathrop, district attorney, who discussed services and work of the grand jury.

Nineteen men and women in the county are selected out of about 50 after first being nominated by one of the county' superior court judges. By lot, the members are chosen from the total list of nominees. About 30 committees are formed by the jurors to investigate various governmental operations, usually three jurors being on each committee.

The grand jury can also issue indictments if the district attorney presents sufficient evidence, it was pointed out.

At the end of the year, the jury files a comprehensive report and its only force is public opinion, Mr. Lathrop said. If department heads and others want a favorable report they can make changes as the jurors suggest but if there is no concern about what the jury thinks the government officials can ignore the recommendations, the speaker explained.

Judge Fred H. Jacobs was program chairman with President Mark Bradburn presiding.

Dr. Earl L. Wenger has rejoined the club.

Bernadine McIntire Named President of College Student Body

Bernadene McIntire, 8511 East Ninth street, was elected secretary of the Chaffey college associated student body this week in a special election called to fill the vacancy after the resignation of Jackie Winslow, who has transferred to another college.

Miss McIntire was selected from a field of six candidates who included Loretta Baldwin and Polly Hale, Upland; Dorothea Duffy and Rogene Logan, Ontario; and Theresa Goeller, Palm Springs.

Uplander Named To Regional Office In Young Republicans

Walter E. Stewart, 243 W. 11th St., was elected vice-president of region 10, of California Young Republicans during a convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday at San Diego.

Region 10 comprises Riverside, Imperial and San Bernardino counties.

Last year Mr. Stewart was director of San Bernardino County Young Republicans.

Although a delegate to the San Diego convention, he was unable to attend because of low temperatures endangering citrus grove operations.

"Upland Churches To Close": No Place To Worship In Community

"All the Upland Churches Are Going To Close . . ."

That might be a headline in this newspaper.

At least, we were challenged recently to announce that this community would be churchless; that from this date on, all churches here would be non-existant and everyone here would face the future without the privilge of having places in which to worship.

Would you like it? Would this be the kind of community in which you would want to live and rear your families? Would you miss the churches and their services? Would you, real estate people, be able to sell building lots and houses if your prospects knew this was a churchless community?

Or, do the churches really mean much to you, Mr. and Mrs. Upland?

Sometimes we think the big majority of people are unconcerned about churches. Look around at the empty pews every Sunday and you might get that impression. Generally speaking, this is regarded as a "church community." Perhaps it is true. Of course, at Easter time and during the Christmas season, most local churches are crowded. At other times, only a few of them are really filled.

It is easy for people to join a protestant church—and then use the church and worship services only as it is convenient. If it were more difficult to join and more a privilege to attend, church membership might really mean more. Take the service clubs and lodges, for example. In some cases, failure to attend means dismissal. Failure to pay a definite schedule of dues, of course, is certain to bring immediate disqualification.

Not so with a church. You can join, attend when you wish and pay when it is convenient, or when you have a few pennies, nickels and dimes left over.

The fact your name is on a membership roll of a church may give some comfort and satisfaction. Perhaps it is a "good thing" to have your name so listed.

Supposing it were true, however, that all the churches in Upland were going to close and this would be a churchless community?

Personally, we would not like it. We don't believe anyone would.

That being the case, isn't there something we as laymen should do about it? Isn't there individual responsibility and loyalty to support the church of our choice? Isn't there an opportunity to help give influence for the right? If churches really do mean something to us individually, every member is faced with a challenge.

Church attendance is a real problem in this so-called "church-going" community.

Combined seating capacity of all the Upland churches is less than 3,200.

Anyone can visualize what would be the situation in the church buildings if all local church members were in the services at the same time. There would be enough accommodations for only about one fourth of the members.

As it is, however, there is plenty of room every Sunday in almost all of the local protestant churches. There are a few exceptions.

In no instance, however, is there any need for two worship services to accommodate the crowds. Not enough church members are in attendance to justify regular dual services.

Population in this community has doubled in recent years. What has happened to the church attendance? We know of one church in which the average Sunday attendance is less today than it was seven years ago.

Someone described one of the local churches as a "Sleeping Giant." We concur in that description. We believe it is time to awaken that giant, to put more power into our churches and to make religion more vital in the life of every church member here.

We do not believe the fault of poor attendance records lies entirely with the laymen.

Surely, the loyalty of members is vital. Also necessary is the presentation of a very wholesome, inspiring and deeply spiritual program by every minister and church leader.

In this modern age, every individual has many, many calls on his time, many diversions, many opportunities to do something besides attend church services Sunday morning. It is so easy to accept the theory: "I can worship God while motoring, while golfing and being out-of-doors." That may be true.

The point is the ministers and all church leaders are faced with terrific "competition"—and the worship programs must be unusually dynamic to win the interest, time and devotion of church members and all other individuals.

We realize a protestant minister has a very, very important — and a very, very difficult role. He is the leader of people with many different religious and social backgrounds, experiences anl views. His appearance in the pulpit, however, with a dynamic, inspiring, motivating, and forceful message will draw into the churches many members and many other people.

No, Upland will never be without churches.

You will not permit that. It is timely, however, to discuss the religious phase of life in our community. Surely, the active laymen and the ministers face a great challenge, today, and in the years ahead.

Everyone Will Like Shorter Political Campaigns In 1956

Recent announcement that the two major political parties would hold their conventions in late August and September is of historic significance.

For many years the parties have been staging their conventions in the early summer. This was believed ncessary because the candidates nominated needed time in which to campaign before the November elections.

With whirlwind airplane tactics and television appearances of today the drive for votes can be carried on in a much shorter time and immediately after the feverish party conventions. There will not be the summer lull that has marked the campaigns of the past, but rather a concentrated presidential vote drive that should be appreciated by candidates and voters alike.

We believe the American people will like the shorter campaigns and the same can be said for the candidates.

Industry, economy, honesty and kindness form a quartet of virtues that will never be improved upon.—James Oliver.

Whosoever serves his country well has no need of ancestors.—Voltaire.

THIS LIFE WE LIVE

By James V. Latimer

You Have Heard:

You have heard that the best things in life are free. We do not know who said it first, but we hear it over and over again. Some do not believe it, because they want to BUY, then buy more. All right, just try to buy the sunshine or the beauty of the snow on the mountains; the moonlight over the sea or the beauty of the blossoms in spring, or the beauty of the trees after a rain. It can't be done. You cannot purchase the morning song of the lark, neither is the night song of the mockingbird for sale. These are given, because life is good. Did you ever try to buy friendship? It cannot be done; just has to be caught. Love that is bought is not worth having.

Possibly you and we are worrying these days about the cost of living, yet we live on and on. I seem to sense that millions of people live year after year without meat. The Buddhists of India, China, Japan and in other countries do not eat meat. I have lived in their temples for weeks at a time, and thrived on their vegetable diet. So, why worry about the price our shops are forced to charge? We have vegetarians even in the United States, and they seem to live in health and happiness. We need to make a few adjustments, that's all. We give too much thought to what we shall eat and to what we shall wear; and I can quote the chapter and verse as my authority. I prefer the simpler life that lasts longer.

Once I was really concerned in finding the answer to my question as to what makes up the full and complete life and one of satisfaction. I did not get far when I consulted biography. Then I turned to history and found many lives of men and of nations guided by ambitions. In philosophy I did better and learned something. The most satisfying approach to my answer was found in the writings of James Truslow Adams, a writer of note and a living philosopher. He had worked out the answer in five statements. They are:

The Daily Task,
Companionship,
Education,
Travel, and Religion.

I am truly glad he did not leave religion out. So many have stopped with the first and seem to think that the daily work is all that counts. Think of those other steps to the full and satisfactory life, and begin to seek their fullness. Then remember that real life means right relationships with God and with man. But some men seem to think MONEY is important!

First Meeting Well Attended

70 Road Camp Men Hear History of A.A.

Seventy inmates of the Etiwanda Road camp were in attendance during the inaugural meeting of Alcoholics Anyonymous in the camp last week.

A. A. meetings were authorized for the camp through a resolution passed unanimously by the county board of supervisors. A representative from each of seven A. A. groups in cities in this section of the county were named to be responsible for the meetings.

These seven representatives were formed into the county A. A. institutional committee with a chairman elected to act as liason with the board of supervisors, the county road commissioners office and the sheriff's department.

The first speaker told the inmate group briefly of the history of A. A. and how it came to California and San Bernardino county, one of the committee members said.

Inmate members displayed intense interest and took all available literature furnished by the committee.

Started in New York

The inmates learned that A. A. started in New York City in 1934 through the struggle being made by an alcoholic who had been a multi-millionaire stock market operator before the crash of the early 30's.

This man discovered he could remain sober, without effort, so long as he worked with other alcoholics who were trying to recover. This revelation came to him after working for a year without success.

He told his wife: "My idea is a failure. Here I have worked with dozens of people and not a one of them have stayed sober."

To this she answered: You're wrong. One man stayed sober. Don't forget you're sober and have been for the past year."

A business trip to Akron, O., resulted in the stock broker becoming acquainted with a doctor and surgeon who later became the co-founder of the movement as it is known today.

Doctor Introduce

When the broker became beset with the thought of a drink, while in Akron, he called a church agency asking to be given the name of someone who had an alcoholic problem. They furnished the name of the doctor.

The doctor was drinking when the broker called. The keen-minded physician saw the logic of the broker's thinking, and although befogged with alcohol, fell in with the plan at once.

Bill W., the broker, and Doc Bob, now dead, became the originators of a mevement that they visioned would some day have 10,000 members. Today the membership is estimated at 250,000.

One of the world's richest men put the founders on a path still pursued by the organization when they approached him for a loan to start the organizational office.

He refused a loan because he felt monetary matters would conflict with the primary aim of the two men which was obtaining and maintaining sobriety.

SELF SUPPORTING

Consequently A. A. became a self supporting feliowship refusing outside contributions. Each group is self-supporting and in turn supports the national foundation in New York City. More than a million dollars has been returned to well meaning people who have wanted to show their gratitude to the movement for the recovery of someone close to them.

Some of these donations have been in six figures and one country had a sizeable check returned when they asked to be allowed to give monetary aid.

Anonymity is preserved and disclosed only by a member himself. Most members, after a period of sobriety, have no compunction about being associated with A. A.

"We didn't seem to care who saw us drunk so we shouldn't be ashamed of the people who helped get us sober," is the majority sentiment.

In 1939 the rough draft of the book Alcoholics Anonymous was put into mimeograph form and a non-alcoholic woman brought a copy to California from New York City.

50,000 IN STATE

Three men in a psychopathic ward in Los Angeles were given the book to read. They were classed as hopeless drunks. This was the birth of the first A. A. meeting in the state and from it has grown 263 groups with 50,000 members in Southern California.

The three men left the psycho ward and carried the story of A. A. to others. Two of these men are living and have enjoyed uninterrupted sobriety. The third member is dead.

A downtown group in Los Angeles was started by the efforts of these men. The group was un-coached, blunt and thorough. If a drunk was looking for a group to pamper his whims he found he had hit the wrong place.

This group had sobriety to offer if the alcoholic wanted it. But they expected, as groups still do, that the newcomer should want sobriety more than anything else in the world.

A man living in Muscoy, in 1940, heard of the movement and drove to Los Angeles to investigate. He found sobriety and interested others near his home in trying this new recovery approach.

In a few months the Muscoy and San Bernardino contingent had outgrown the car they were using to make trips to Los Angeles meetings and decided to to start a group of their own.

From this Muscoy group sprang the A. A. movement throughout San Bernardino, Riverside and East Los Angeles counties.

LOCAL HISTORY

The Pomona group formed first in this area and from this group came the Covina and Ontario fellowships. Colton, Fontana, Riverside, San Bernardino with three groups, Ontario, Chino and Claremont are all products of the mother group in Muscoy.

The man who first brought A. A. to Muscoy is now engaged in the lumber business and has been sober more than 14 years. He is active in A. A. work and is referred to as "the father of A. A. in San Bernardino county."

The camp inmates also learned that three of the committee members bringing A. A. to them had served time previously at the Etiwanda camp.

One of these members pointed to 64 drunk arrests recorded against him in a four year period before coming to A. A. He told of the many times he had been committed to the Etiwanda camp.

"This is the first time I ever came in here to go out the same night. They always used to keep me a lot longer," he said wryly.

Education being what it is, it is hard to understand why so few students like school.

Winter

By Ernest A. Dart

What could be more lovely
In the sunset's golden glow
Than the beauty of the hilltops
All draped in glistening snow.

Storing reservoirs of water
To supply our summer's need
Our summer's natural rainfall
Is very light indeed.

All across the valley
The sun is warm and bright
Though the air is crisp and bracing
Underneath the shades of night.

When the early dawn is breaking
Across the eastern sky
'Twill bring new heights of pleasure
Just to view the mountains high.

Snow at the higher levels
Golden oranges on the trees
Fragrance of blooming flowers
Gently floating on the breeze.

Sometimes Mother Nature
Displays a stormy mood
But on the whole she is generous
With gifts supremely good.

I might write an editorial
On the things God gives us free
But instead I'll just invite you
To bring your friends and see.

Orange, Lemon Prices Lower On Lighter Demand

Despite the fact that record-breaking low temperatures over practically the entire midwestern and northeastern parts of the country slowed retail store traffic down to a halt, sales of California navel oranges continued good during the week ending Feb. 5. Volume sold by Sunkist Growers totaled just over 750 cars, unchanged from the level of last week, but prices were slightly lower, averaging about $3.90 a box f.o.b., 10c less.

Prorate for the week ending Feb. 12 was set at 500 cars of navels from Southern California and 450 cars from Central California by the Navel Orange Administrative committee. From now on out, the major portion of navel shipments will be coming from Southern California since movement from Central California will gradually decline.

A reappraisal of the navel crops by the Navel Orange Administrative committee has resulted in an increase of 250 cars to a total of 16,000 cars on tree in Central California and a reduction of 750 cars to 17,250 cars on tree in Southern California.

The California lemon market was lower this week although sales by Sunkist Growers were up slightly. The 200 cars sold by Sunkist averaged $5.75 a box f.o.b., 25c less than last week.

The Lemon Administrative committee set the prorate for the week ending Feb. 12 at 215 cars, a reduction of 35 cars from this week in view of the lower trend of the market and unfavorable weather conditions.

Award Presented Northrop Aircraft For Safety Record

An award plaque for 800,000 man hours of work without one lost-time accident was presented to Ernie Lawson, base administrator, Northrop Aircraft Inc., at Ontario International Airport recently.

Presentation was made by Carl Parham, representative of the Employers Mutual Insurance Co.

The new safety record is the result of an extensive "safety-consciousness" program carried out by the Northrop facility at Ontario, Mrs. Lawson said.

Even the smartest individual has much to learn and the smarter they get, the more they realize this fact.

Three Elections Scheduled In One Month

Three elections are scheduled in Cucamonga and Alta Loma.

On Feb. 18, voters in the Alta Loma school district will be asked to approve a proposed $60,000 bond issue to provide additional facilities.

On March 1, decision will be reached on formation of the Cucamonga Water district.

On March 11, a Cucamonga school district bond election will be held to obtain additional funds for buying and building more school buildings. It is estimated the Cucamonga school building will cost $450,000.

Members of the Parent-Teacher associations in Alta Loma and Cucamonga are busy in urging voters to approve issuance of bonds for additional educational facilities. Construction of many new houses in the area makes necessary more classrooms, according to statements by the leaders.

The March 1 water district election has two issues; approval of the plan which will eventually issue bonds for a water distribution system and selection of five directors from eight candidates.

Pistol Range Shelter Bids Held For Study

Because specifications have not been approved by the city engineering department, bids opened to cover materials and construction of a shelter at the police pistol range on E. 16th St. were held in abeyance until engineers make a study and approve plans.

Three bids were submitted by Upland contractors. H. H. Williams bid $1,190, Alvin Gish, $1,040 and Earl T. Casler, $1,132.

The accounting firm of Batsel & Evans, Riverside, have been retained to make a survey of city records and recommend a modernized system as the result of recent city council action.

In authorizing the survey by the accounting firm, the council placed a $400 limit on the amount to be expended for this service.

CHP Endorses 7-Point Safety Driving Program

The California Highway Patrol today endorsed the nationwide program urging every driver to: "Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road."

The national seven point code program is operating under joint sponsorship of the National Safety council and the Inter-Industry Highway Safety committee.

"The difference between motoring discourtesy and an outright violation is very slight and either act can cause a fatal crash," commented Commissioner B. R. Caldwell when explaining the reasons for adopting the courtesy program.

The seven points of emphasis are:

1. Share the road by driving in the proper lane.
3. Allow ample clearance when passing.
3. Yield the right of way to other drivers and to pedestrians.
4. Give proper signals for turns and stops.
5. Dim headlights when meeting or following vehicles.
6. Respect traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.
7. Adjust driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

Dedication For New Cucamonga Fire Hall Set

Dedication of the recently completed Cucamonga district fire station has been scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday with Ralph T. Santolucito, chairman of the board of commissioners of the fire district, making the dedication speech, Fire Chief Frank Valli announced.

The new fire station is located at San Bernardino Rd. and Klusman Ave. and cost $16,000 to construct.

The dedication ceremony was arranged to coincide with delivery of a new 11,000 gallon fire truck capable of pumping 250 gallons of water a minute. This new truck is equipped with a lighting plant, smoke ejector, a 125 horsepower engine and auxiliary equipment.

The event will be opened by selections played by a concert band made up of student musicians from Central, Cucamonga elementary and Mountain View schools under the direction of Bill Ray.

A concert will also be given by a new orchestra, "The Mambos."

A demonstration of equipment, including a hose drill, under the direction of Capt. Lew Kinney will be a feature of the afternoon and movies on fire prevention will be shown by C. U. Ulrey, assistant state forestry ranger, at night.

Capt. Rudy Pimentel of the Alta Loma Fire department, with members of the department, will give resuscitator and artificial respiration demonstrations.

Gay 90's Returning To Upland

PTA Cast To Model Ancient Vintage Modes

Members of the Sierra Vista PTA have dipped back into the nostalige 90's as background material for a Founder's Day program at the Sierra Vista auditorium Feb. 17, at 7:45 p.m.

In keeping with the founding of PTA in Washington D. C. on Feb. 17, 1897, local members have ransacked attics, trunks and closets for clothing of that period before the turn of the century.

The articles of apparel brought to light, by diligent searchers, are in perfect accord with the gowns worn by Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, co-founders of the movement.

EARLY DAY STYLES

It is this period that will be represented first on the program. The sweeping trains, bustles, tight waists and somber hats will pass in review on the stage to "The Bird in a Gilded Cage."

A lighter trend follows as the styles of 1910 pass in review with the period of the "Merry Widow Hat" and the fluffy black parasol. "The Merry Widow Waltz," will be background music.

From this period the review moves to World War I styles with hobble skirts, shirt waists and walking sticks. Out of this same era came the athletic girl in her gym costume and bathing suit featuring cumbersome skirts over bloomers with stockings and shoes. Music to accompany this showing will be "Over There" and "Me and My Gal."

The "Charleston Era", The "Flapper Era" and later periods in the 30's and 40's will all be accounted for in this fashion show of pre-World War II vintage.

ACTIVE PLANNERS

Mrs. L. E. Swerdfeger, 1346 N. Euclid Ave., Mrs. Vaughn Dunlap, 914 W. 23rd St., Mrs. Harold Camille, 2415 Sierra Dr., Mrs. Allen Palmer, 2416 Park Blve. and Mrs. Art Lichti, 1072 W. 15th St., have been active in planning the program.

Others assisting as part of the cast will be Mason Hyche and Vaughn Dunlap wearing smart tuxedos of the 1910 period and Mr. nnd Mrs. William Bowden, 779 W. 18th St., in a revival of the Charleston dance.

A special feature of the program will be the honoring of past presidents, Mrs. William Gilliland and Mrs. Earle Casler.

They're Just As Uncomfortable As They Look!

A preview of costumes to be worn by members of the Sierra Vista PTA during a Founder's Day program Feb. 17. Mrs. Swerdfeger, left, 1346 N. Euclid Ave., and Mrs. Vaughn Dunlap, secied, 914 W. 23rd St., wear fashions of the day when P-TA was founded in 1897. Mrs. Harold Camilli, right, 2415 Sierra drive, is wearing the fashion in trains popular in the early 1890's.
